I have a passion for Game Development and am also eager to meet new people and learn new skills.

INTERESTS

Java

I decided to learn Java so that I could become familiar with object-orientated programming and the syntax. I have created some small programs including a calculator.

Web Design

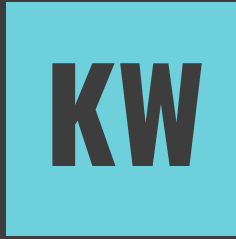

I taught myself HTML and CSS so that I could create my own website. I plan to use this knowledge to create more websites in the future.

Japanese

After taking an interest in the culture of Japan, I took the initiative and have been teaching myself the language. I am currently preparing for the JLPT N5.

Unity

My interest in games has led me to designing my own game in Unity 2D.
